Toolkit restrictions lifted

2024-03-18 - Simon - Software Release

The latest Toolkit version 7.2 lifts the previously implemented restrictions on the number of plots in charts. Many users of easYgen will appreciate this improvement to freely analyse their application with more details.

Here the wording of the Toolkit publication:

“Change trend chart plot restriction license

The trend chart plot restriction in the advanced license now only applies to data log files and quick tool trend charts. Trend on the fly charts can only be restricted by the tool they were created from. A new tool property called Trend Plot Limit can be used to restrict plots on trend on the fly charts.”
